Daughter of Philadelphia Man Sobs Out Confession After Night of Mental Agony

Realizin her own mental and physical mirmities and feeling that there was no place for her in the world, Emma Mack gave deadly poison tablets to fiveyear-old Anne Marie Van Horn at Horsham yesterday, so the police would put her in jail for life. This is the confession of the woman to the Abington police today.

Miss Mack, who is twenty-six years old, surrendered to the Doylestown police this morning, was taken to Abington and questioned. She told of tragic clouds that had hung over her life, and unable to get $25,000 bail set by Fedhow, amid the disorders of her brain, eral Judge Dickinson. the had reasoned it out that she would Newlin is charged with conspiracy. be happy and contented in jail. By Associated Press Dublin, June 28 .- An attack begun at dawn today by Free State troops on the Irish Republican army irregulars barricaded in the Four Courts at Dublin was still in progress at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Under a heavy fire from rifles and machine guns and of high explosive shells from small calibered artillery the irregular troops, under Commandant Rory O'Connor, were reported to have been driven to the rear part of the Four Courts Building and the belief that they could not hold out much longer in official quarters. Fowler's Hall, in Parnell Square, held by the insurgents, also was be-sieged and after fire had broken out there shortly after noon the irregulars evacuated it and moved to a hotel in the vicinity, where they began throwing men had been killed and numbers of combatants wounded up to the early afternoon, and it was rumored that Commandant Rory O'Connor, of the rregulars, was among the wounded. The artillery fire upon the four ourts was sparing in quantity, from desire to save the ancient building as far as possible, and during the hour from noon to 1 o'clock not a shot was fired from the eighteen-pounders, from which the high-explosive shells were being sent into the structure.

Spectators Wounded

Business proceeded almost us usual n Dublin while the fighting was going. The citizens congregated in crowds along the quays and on the bridge over the Liffey to watch the progress of the fighting, but there was little to see. The position of the building made a direct attack difficult. The transways along the quays and on the heights on the opposite side of the river from the Four Courts suspended service, but everywhere else traffic was proceeding. Even the shops in close
